Work Type: Full TimeLocation: Adelaide or PerthFunction: General ManagementAdvertiser: Toro Energy LimitedGENERAL MANAGER - EXPLORATION

Toro Energy Limited is a significant Australian listed uranium explorer and resource project group. Toro has tenements and interests in Australia (South Australia, Western Australia and Northern Territory) and Africa (Namibia, Guinea and Morocco). Its primary aim is to build a sustainable uranium exploration and mining company producing uranium within the Australian and global mining sector.

The General Manager – Exploration will report directly to the Managing Director and will be part of the Executive Management Team. The position involves regular travel.

Key functions will include:

- Development and implementation of future exploration strategy, and evaluation of potential acquisition and JV opportunities, both domestically and internationally.
- Exploration budget development and active cost management, reporting and control.
- Management of tenement holdings, alliance and JV arrangements, and identification of competitor information.
- Implementation and management of successful, cost effective exploration drill programs.
- Management of exploration staff located in both the Adelaide and Perth offices, and the fostering of a strong team culture.
- Effective liaison and management of remotely located consultants and contractors.
- Continue establishment and implementation of exploration systems in the areas of health and safety, environment, community relations, and tenement management (including GIS and database management).
- Internal reporting up to Board level, drafting of exploration results and disclosure releases, and external interaction with key stakeholders.
- Deal effectively and sensitively with all cultural and community issues in accordance with Company policy and land access agreements.

To be successful in this role, you will be a highly qualified and talented Geologist with at least ten years experience in senior exploration roles, with previous uranium experience and international exposure highly regarded. You will also have strong communication and leadership skills, developed networks in the exploration and mining industry, and be commercially focussed and goal driven.

A competitive remuneration package (including share option incentives which reflects the seniority of the role) will be offered to the successful candidate.
